Inclusion of vulnerable group (Pregnant Women, Lactating Women, Neonates and Person with Disabilities)

Disasters severely impact vulnerable populations, particularly those living in disaster-prone mouzas along rivers and hill torrents. Pregnant women, lactating mothers, neonates, and persons with disabilities face increased health risks, including maternal and neonatal complications, malnutrition, infectious diseases, and psychological distress. The Provincial Disaster Management Authority (PDMA) Punjab plays a critical role in disaster response by ensuring timely medical assistance and reducing health risks for these high-risk groups.

This Data Collection Performa has been developed to systematically gather essential information to assess the health, nutritional status, and specific needs of vulnerable populations in flood-affected and disaster-prone mouzas. The collected data will support effective disaster response and recovery efforts, ultimately reducing morbidity and mortality.

Psycho-Social Support During Emergency

Psycho-social support during disasters like floods is important because it helps people cope with stress, fear, and loss. It provides emotional care, counseling, and community support to reduce trauma and anxiety. This support is especially crucial for vulnerable groups like children, the elderly, and persons with disabilities. It strengthens resilience, helps people recover faster, and rebuild their lives with hope and stability.

- Pre-flood meeting should be held and duties of all concerned officers and departments should be clearly defined and assigned.
- A district disaster management plan should be prepared using the set template and updated regarding any disaster or emergency that may strike the district.
- A focal person for the disaster or calamity should be nominated and his/her number should be communicated to all concerned departments.
- Proper stock taking should be done regarding available stocks of food and rations. Similarly stock regarding machinery and equipment should also be taken and inventories should be prepared. Out of order machinery should be repaired or replaced.
- Committees should be formed and constituted which will deal with various functions during a flood or emergency. Purchasing of food items, food, and machinery should all be done through committees.
- Identification of Low lying, medium and high vulnerability levels with flood level
- In case of evacuation the district administration should be very clear about the places where the relief camps or shelters will be established. Teams should be formulated which will look after these camps and will be in-charge for provision of tents, food, water and maintaining general law and order. Provision of cooked food is also to be ensured.

Civil-Military Coordination Mechanism

The Pakistan army's resources are employed for immediate search, rescue and evacuation. The Army is called in the 'Aid of Civil Power' only when a disaster overwhelms the resources at the disposal of the Government of Punjab. Search, rescue and evacuation are the primary responsibilities of the 'Disaster Response Force' so if the resources of this force fall short, the Army is immediately called in. The Army's setup in Punjab is administratively divided into six Corps with a Corps Commander leading each Corps. The District Coordination Officer of the affected district would request the relevant Army Authorities for aid of Army upon the approval of the Home Department. The Standard Operating Procedure of requesting the support of the Army is to route the DC's request through Home Department, and the Ministry of Defense. The Ministry would inform the General Headquarters (GHQ) and officers at GHQ would request the relevant Corps Commander to activate the Garrison Officer Incharge and the Brigadier responsible for leading the on ground operations. PDMA has equipped the Army with 850 boats for rescue and evacuation. In addition to the on ground movement, the Army can also provide the necessary air support for reconnaissance, relief and rescue missions. PDMA pays for the maintenance expenditures of the 850 boats mentioned earlier. In the same manner, all of Army's expenditures on disaster response are debited to the requisitioning civil authority.

The Army plays a substantial role in the opening of breaching sections. The Irrigation department is responsible for the maintenance of manageable discharge rates in the major rivers of Punjab. If the water flow exceeds a set discharge rate, the breaching section is opened with the help of explosives and excessive water is diverted into a designated area. The Breaching Section Committee responsible for the opening of the section, contains a military representative, which is usually a representative of the respective formation Headquarters not below the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. In case a disaster disrupts the existing telecommunication channels in a certain area, the Army would spearhead or assist the installation of wireless stations. In case of high floods, the respective Corps Commander would setup a Flood Relief Committee, consisting of but not limited to Commander Corps Engineer, Commander Corps Signals, Chief of Staff, Colonel General Staff, Colonel Administration etc.

Volunteer Network

The office of Civil Defence assists in the evacuation of people and their household properties from the disaster affected areas. The office engages a large number of volunteers for search, rescue, evacuation and disbursement of relief goods. These volunteers generally known as "Razakars" are usually trained in swimming, basic rescue techniques, first aid etc. Razakars build their skills in simulation and mock exercises. The Civil Defence collaborates with Punjab Emergency Services (Rescue 1122) in sophisticated search, rescue and evacuation operations.

The District officer organizes mobile squads of Razakars and scouts in collaboration with local wardens and scout organizations to assist local administration/army, Rescue 1122 in evacuation and other disaster response activities. Razakars manage and utilize generators, search lights, and other lifesaving equipment. Razakars that know how to swim and dive are utilized for specialized water rescue. Razakars provide first aid to injured victims before transporting them to hospitals. These volunteers also assist the fire brigade in rescue, and Health department's representatives in the treatment of injured victims. The Civil Defense also assists the District Administration and Police in setting up information system for members of public, whose relatives, friends and family members are missing.

ANNEX XII: CAMP MANAGEMENT SOPs

- Camps would be established in areas accessible by metalled roads so that provision of essential facilities is not difficult
- Basic facilities such as food, clean drinking water, health, hygiene and sanitation should be available at these shelters.
- Proper registration mechanism should be in place to differentiate between those actually affected and cunning opportunists
- Proper security system should be in place in coordination with the local police as the presence of police always acts as deterrence for criminals who may be attracted to such places.
- Emergency medical care should be available as well as a proper firefighting system as fire out breaks are common in such tents
- Proper camp management should be announced and notified and there should be a complaint cell as well
- A proper distribution mechanism should be in place to ensure that the needy get what they deserve.
- Scattered camps should be catered for and encouraged to join the main camp.
- At times shallow hand pumps are not safe for drinking as the water underground has been affected. In such cases clean medicated water should be provided through water bowsers.
- Vector control is an essential part of the camp management and steps should be taken to remove rats, snakes and mosquitoes etc.
- Un-accompanied and missing children shall be placed separately with proper care and fulfilment of their physical and psycho-social needs.

ANNEX XV: LIST OF BASIC TERMS

Acceptable risk

The level of loss a society or community considers it can live with and for which it does not need to invest in mitigation

Biological hazard

Biological vectors, micro-organisms, toxins and bioactive substances, which may cause the loss of life or injury, property damage, social and economic disruption or environmental degradation.

Capacity

A combination of all the strengths and resources available within a community, society or organization that can reduce the level of risk, or the effects of a disaster.

Capacity may include physical, institutional, social or economic means as well as skilled personnel or collective attributes such as leadership and management. Capacity may also be described as capability.

Capacity building

Efforts aimed to develop human skills or societal infrastructure within a community or organization needed to reduce the level of risk. In extended understanding, capacity building also includes development of institutional, financial, political and other resources, at different levels of the society.

Climate change

The climate of a place or region is changed if over an extended period (typically decades or longer) there is a statistically significant change in measurements of either the mean temperature or variability of the climate for that region.

Coping capacity

The means by which people or organizations use available resources and abilities to face a disaster. In general, this involves managing resources, both in normal times as well as during crises or adverse conditions.

Disaster

A serious disruption of the functioning of a community or society causing widespread human, material, economic or environmental losses which exceed the ability of the affected community or society to cope using its own resources. It results from the combination of hazards, conditions of vulnerability and insufficient capacity to reduce the potential negative consequences of risk.

Disaster risk management (DRM)

The comprehensive approach to reduce the adverse impacts of a disaster. DRM encompasses all actions taken before, during, and after the disasters. It includes activities on mitigation, preparedness, emergency response, recovery, rehabilitation, and reconstruction.

Disaster risk reduction/disaster reduction

The measures aimed to minimize vulnerabilities and disaster risks throughout a society, to avoid (prevention) or to limit (mitigation and preparedness) the adverse impacts of hazards, within the broad context of sustainable development.

Early warning

The provision of timely and effective information, through identified institutions, to communities and individuals so that they could take action to reduce their risks and prepare for effective response.

Emergency management

The management and deployment of resources for dealing with all aspects of emergencies, in particularly preparedness, response and rehabilitation

Forecast

Estimate of the occurrence of a future event (UNESCO, WMO). This term is used with different meanings in different disciplines.

Geological hazard

Natural earth processes that may cause the loss of life or injury, property damage, social and economic disruption or environmental degradation. For example earthquakes, tsunamis, volcanic activity and emissions, landslides, rockslides, rock falls or avalanches, surface collapses, expansive soils and debris or mud flows.
